

5th Grade American History--2009-2010

Textbook: United States Adventures in Time and Place

McMillian/McGraw-Hill

Class Work----70%

- American Art:

We will be studying American artists and their art, the influence that American artists have had on our nation, and how American Art has changed. You will be asked to research, reflect, react, and create throughout our art studies.

- Activities/Discussion/Projects:

You will work together with classmates and independently on many activities and projects as we study about the history of our nation. Participation, timely completion of your assignments, and taking part in discussions are all very important components of being a successful learner in American History class!

Assessment-----30%

You will be tested throughout our units of study. Oftentimes, you will receive a traditional paper and pencil test over the concepts we've studied together, but other times you may be tested orally, or with a project or activity.
